FLIGHT PRO INTERNATIONAL CELEBRATES 2-YEAR SUCCESS AFTER LAUNCHING BUSINESS DURING PANDEMIC

Houston, TX – Flight Pro International (FPI) may be a new name in the private aviation services industry, but it's a company deeply rooted with over three decades of fine-tuned expertise in concierge trip management services provided by its founder, Tom Balousek, and his veteran team. In a year when most businesses were operationally challenged, the pandemic didn't stop Tom from continuing his original longstanding vision as a lifetime entrepreneur in the industry.

FPI's founding more closely resembled an "entrepreneurial family reunion" vs. a green start up. Founder Tom Balousek recognized that his original "one stop shop," VIP services vision would fill a newfound marketplace void, echoing a 1978 vision when he and partners began Air Routing.

The team grew to become the most comprehensive and versatile trip management professionals in the industry thanks to their continued pioneering spirit and global expertise across an unmatched array of pre-trip, during-trip, and post-trip services.

A decade later and many organization changes later, Tom's vision was fulfilled again with the founding of Flight Pro International in 2020, during a year most would consider "not ideal" for a new company launch. This year FPI celebrates its 2nd Anniversary.

Combining the historical running start with the employment of highly skilled aviation professionals, cutting-edge software development, and modern flight operations nuances, FPI was able to debut Flight Pro Connect (FPC) before its 2nd birthday... an unrivaled feat in the industry. The FPC format streamlines trip management from start to finish, either as engagement between FPI ops and clients or as a solo tool for FPI clients at their convenience.

With a knack for continued ingenuity, over-the-top regard for decades-long client relationship, and a vast network of global vendors, FPI claims an unmatched position in the private aviation space thanks to streamlining all trip management service types under one roof.

"Our goal is to provide an elegant-yet-simplified client experience that delivers peace-of-mind, ROI, and return on experience... critical benefits in today's accelerated pace, whether looking for professional trip management, flight planning, or hotel and concierge accommodations, no matter where your travels take you in the world."

— Tom Balousek, FPI Founder
